

CITY PRIDE

Local businesses can drive customers to their business every month from only $6 per week.

For the last 5 years the Queensland Times has picked one month of the year to drive customers to local businesses by offering the chance to win $10,000 through our City Pride campaign.

With the rise of retail giants like Amazon, Costco, Wesfarmers and Ebay, keeping money in the hands of our local business owners and residents has never been more important.

So, City Pride has undergone a facelift, we now offer local shoppers the chance to Win $1,000 every month by spending $20 or more at a participating business. If the winner is a QT subscriber that will double to $2,000.

To be a participating business you must be a locally owned business or franchise, have a current QT subscription and advertising account and sit down with a QT multimedia specialist to complete a no obligation 45 minute business needs analysis.

As a City Pride partner you will receive a welcome pack, exclusive access to distress advertising opportunities and a monthly newsletter containing the latest industry news, advice and tips.

AS AN ADDED BONUS

each City Pride partner goes into the draw to WIN a full-page advertorial valued at over $1,770 every month.
